How To Use the Formula Blue™ Hydraulic Brake Parts Catalog Part Numbering System

The Formula Blue™ Hydraulic Brake Parts part numbering system is specially designed to easily identify both the type of part, and the type of vehicle the part fits.

Hard Parts

The digits and letters in this “smart” part number for hard parts represent:

- Prefix: “E”
- Product Group: 3 digits (see next page for a complete listing of product groups)
- Vehicle Make: 2 digits (for all products groups other than friction)
- Part Number: 3 digits
- Optional Suffix: 1 digit (optional)
 - For Bare Caliper: 1 digit following the decimal (only for product group 146)
(this optional digit will be one of the following:)
 - .1 = denotes a remanufactured bare caliper; or
 - .2 = denotes a “service new” semi-loaded caliper
 - For Loaded Caliper: 1 digit following the decimal (only for product group 147)
(this optional digit will be one of the following:)
 - .1 = denotes medium duty remanufactured calipers loaded with Heavy Duty friction pads. A loaded caliper part number without the .1 represents loaded calipers with Premium grade pads.

For Example: E146-66-028.1

Prefix “E”

146 = Semi-loaded remanufactured Caliper with Hardware

66 = Ford

028 = Formula Blue™ hydraulic brake base part number

.1 = denotes a bare caliper version

Brake Pads and Shoes

The digits and letters in this “smart” part number for friction parts represent:

- Prefix: “E”
- Product Group: 3 digits (see next page for a complete listing of product groups)
- FMSI Part Number: 4 digits
- Variation: 1 digit

For Example: E109-0786-1

Prefix “E”

109 = Metallic Brake Pads (Premium) with Shims

0786 = FMSI D786 brake pad form

1 = Alternate pad thickness

Important Information About Formula Blue™ Calipers, Brake Pads and Friction Material

* Caliper part numbers, as listed in the catalog for specific applications, are for both loaded and semi-loaded caliper offerings. The part number is comprised of the letter “E” followed by eight (8) digits.

For Product Group 146 (semi-loaded & bare remanufactured, service new calipers):

Select calipers are available as loaded or bare.

- Bare calipers are called out through the addition of a “.1” (dot one) at the end of the part number, resulting in the letter E followed by nine (9) digits.
- Service new semi-loaded calipers are identified through the addition of a “.2” (dot two) at the end of the part number.

For Product Group 147 (loaded remanufactured calipers):

Select medium duty calipers are available with Premium or Heavy Duty grade pads.

- Heavy duty grade pads are identified by the addition of a “.1” (dot one) at the end of the part number, resulting in the letter “E” followed by nine (9) digits.

Please refer to the current inventory system at your business to determine availability and price.

† Multiple friction offerings are available for Formula Blue™ Brake Pads. Please refer to the three digit product group code to confirm either Premium or Heavy Duty grade friction. Part numbers containing product group code 109 and 112 denote Premium grade, while parts with product group code 111 denote Heavy Duty grade friction material.
